A friend is someone who will catch you when you fall, dry your tears and tell you it will be alright, pretend to be happy just to cheer you up, never leave you by yourself, attempt to talk to you at least once a day no matter what, make you laugh when you are sad, always remind you of your inside jokes, finish your sentences, think the same way you do, follow you wherever you go, stop you from doing something stupid or hurting yourself, and they are always willing to give up something that means a lot to them because they can be sure you will always be there in return, and because of them you will always mean more than you can imagine. A friend is the essence of a teen's life and a delicious topping to your existence, so always treasure them.

*I went on search to be a leader,
searching high and low above the meter,
I spoke with authority that I remember,
all would follow, all but one member,
“why should I trust you”, the one did ask,
“what have you done to achieve the task”?
i thought long and hard of what I did wrong,
then i rolled up my sleeves and worked right along,
shoulder to shoulder we got things done,
we worked side by side, all were one,
a mate of mine stumbled, i stooped to assist,
my hand he did grab, a smile did persist,
one was lost, didn't know what to do, i showed him how, the ropes, something new,
i praised them one and all for their work,
all were unique, but i encouraged each quirk,
when the task was done, one did shout
“you are a great leader!” they all turned about,
“without you there to support our right,
lost would we be, with no end in sight”,
i learned that day i lead the best,
when i get off my butt and help the rest,
to lead by example is the true treasure,
the secret of leadership, in one simple measure.*

LEADERSHIP

IIMUN

1. Describe your experience in INTERNATIONAL MODERN UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE?

It was a memorable moment for all of us. None of us had ever attended such a conference. All the time spent in the social evenings like the ball dance and the trip to Mumbai was an absolutely new experience.

2. What did you learn from IIMUN?

It developed many of our skills such as communication skills, orientation skills, socializing skills and we also learnt how to be more independent.

3. Why do you think each and every one should be a part of IIMUN?

IIMUN, basically talks about general awareness and the recent happenings. It helps us to be more confident and teaches you how to take initiatives. This is why each and every one should be a part of it.

4. How is IIMUN going to help you in future?

IIMUN will lead to the enhancement of inter-personal skills. It has helped me to be strong and create a strong stand and to be updated about the world around us.

5. What changes do you feel in yourself after attending IIMUN?

After my experience in IIMUN, i feel more confident, my personality has enhanced and now i can easily express myself in any situation.

LIVING THE HISTORY

The wonderful trip to Baroda was arranged by Mrs.Gargi Rajadhyax and Mrs.Kusmeet Kaur. The trip started with a visit to Baroda Museum was magnificent. It was divided into many galleries. Each corner of the museum portrayed portions of the world history. The artifacts kept there were outstanding. The next stop was the Laxmi Vilas Palace. It was huge and had endless porticos. It had three entrances depicting the three religions. The last stop of our journey was the world renown and prestigious M.S University. We all attended a conference by Dr. U. Sandesra. We visited the Department of Archaeology which added to our knowledge. The trip was amazing and it changed our view towards history.

MAKE THE WAY

TRIP TO PAVAGADH ...

Pavagadh-the mini Switzerland, was the most memorable trip I have ever had. The fun filled survey, the visit to INSTITUTE OF RURAL MANAGEMENT, ANAND, and the AMUL ice cream still tantalizes our taste buds were the best elements of the trip. The pleasing climate and the wonderful atmosphere we were exposed to was impeccable. The rocking DJ amidst the clouds was like a “cherry on the cake”. Altogether it was a trip full of incredible moments and the best of times.

TRIP TO RAJPIPLA

Those who do not believe in God, will find themselves paltry, post their visit to Orsang, Rajpipla, a small place enclosed unexplored beauty. The magnitude of outbound learning was actually experienced in this most awaited trip. Not only did we understand the importance of team spirit and group effort but also the need of the hour- Time Management. The various team-building activities were full of adventure and fun. Though not much of information but education was the ultimate motive. We realised that during this two-day tour we made MEMORIES..memories that will always remain close to our heart.

As a teacher, on this valuable day i just expect students to always remember us and cherish the memories and the time spent with us. Students on this day should definitely remember their teacher and their teachings. This is the most precious gift a teacher would wish.

MRS.MANJU SOMANI

On this day i always remember the values which i have received from my teachers and this day always reminds me that i have to teach the same values to my students. This is what that makes me feel that I have fulfilled my duty as a teacher.

On this day i wish that students play the role of a teacher and experience how does it feels to teach. This day should be enthusiastically celebrated both by teachers as well as students. This is the one day when teachers expect students to do something for them.

MRS.KADAMBARI AGRAWAL

Teacher's day is not only limited to celebrations for teachers. Teachers always wish students to participate in their happiness. This is what that makes the day special and memorable for us. Teachers never wish anything in return form the students, except that they never forget them and atleast remember them on this day.
